A Win for Europe

7 Serbia Reinvents Itself Elizabeth Pond

The Serbia-Kosovo deal signed in April was an historic breakthrough. The ultranationalists in Belgrade are evolving into pragmatists or are being sidelined.

Commentary

31 Reinforce Rowhani's Mandate for Change Mark Fitzpatrick

Iran's new president made clear in his campaign that he would pursue purposeful negotiations with the West. Signals that sanctions relief is in the offing may encourage the Supreme Leader to go along.

35 Muddling Through in Iraq Daniel Serwer

The Obama administration's policy may seem incoherent: but viewing it as part of a wider picture makes it far more comprehensible.

41 Climate Change: Strategies of Denial Jeffrey Mazo

The propagation of myths and misconceptions continues to poison the debate over how to mitigate or adapt to a warming world.

50 Noteworthy

Spring Storms

53 Syria's Growing Jihad Seth G. Jones

Syria is becoming a training ground for foreign fighters and a microcosm of sectarian conflict. The quicker the Assad regime falls, the better.

73 Hope and Disappointment: Iran and the Arab Spring Peter Jones

Iran's power in the Middle East has always been as a spoiler. The Arab Spring could have been an opportunity to build, but Tehran has instead lost influence.

85 Hizbullah and the Iranian Nuclear Programme Erica D. Borghard and Mira Rapp-Hooper

There are as many reasons for a nuclear-armed Tehran to become more circumspect with its proxies as there are for such groups to be emboldened.

107 The Arab World's Response to an Israeli Attack on Iran Yoel Guzansky and Amos Yadlin

Arab states want to see Tehran's nuclear programme fail. But while they may restrain their condemnation of a strike, they will not publicly support one.

Africa Rising?

- 121 Securing Development: Challenges of Economic Inclusion Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala
Africa is growing fast but inequality has also increased. This trend could arrest progress towards peace and security.
- 129 Africa's Rising Economies Fred Swaniker
Five fundamental forces are driving Africa's current boom, and will shape the continent's growth for decades to come.
- 143 Africa and the Gulf Michael Peel
Gulf states and sub-Saharan Africa face challenges in progressing beyond trade in agriculture, commodities and cheap labour.
- 155 The Eurasian Sea Jonathan Holslag
The waters around the Eurasian continent have evolved from a set of separated seas into a maritime ring-road, a locus of new rivalries and security dilemmas.
- 177 China's Nuclear Fuel Cycle and Proliferation Risks Jasper Pandza
China's commitment to a plutonium-based fuel cycle poses some proliferation risk. But Beijing has its own good reasons to re-evaluate its plans.

Review Essays

- 191 The Cold War and Cuban Intelligence Russell Crandall
In Castro's Secrets, former CIA officer Brian Latell reveals how Cuban intelligence ran circles around its much larger and better-funded American counterpart.
- 199 Othello and the Unknown Military Jonathan Shaw
The military is largely a mystery to a modern audience. But the military dynamics in Othello's personality are key to the play.
- 205 Book Reviews
Africa Chris Alden | Asia-Pacific Lanxin Xiang | Russia and Eurasia Angela Stent | Arms, Arms Control and Technology Bruno Tertrais

Closing Argument

- 229 Drug Wars Russell Crandall
The 'war on drugs' has failed in its stated goals, but has indirectly helped secure a huge victory in Colombia. We must think carefully before abandoning it altogether.
